

Synthetic note

Aim	Establish a pedagogical set of resources for trainers of teachers, presenting the history of the Mediterranean as a set of positive interactions, based on multiperspectivity and intercultural dialogue.
Message	To show the dynamics of diversity in the Mediterranean.
Target	Trainers of teachers of history at primary and secondary level.
Methods	A reflective approach, allowing everyone to view themselves as through the eyes of the others (multiperspectivity), and to be open for intercultural dialogue.
Added value	Highlighting interactions, based on sharing and crossing approaches of history teaching and enhancing education for democratic citizenship.
Pedagogical aspects	Offer teaching strategies that allow a non-stereotypical vision of the image of the Other, curiosity, open-mindedness, critical analysis, multiperspectivity, respect and mutual enrichment.
