

Ms Louise Calleja is a Maltese national. She holds a Certificate in Policing and Diploma in Management Studies from the University of Malta.

Ms Calleja's professional background was formed at the General Police Headquarters, Floriana, where she began working as a police constable, advancing to investigator, with responsibilities ranging from the investigation of homicide cases to national security issues.

Currently Ms Calleja is a police inspector in the vice squad, and her responsibilities include investigating major cases regarding forced prostitution, sexual offences, and child abuse. In the carrying out of her duties Ms Calleja's tasks include conducting interviews and interrogations with victims, witnesses, suspects and offenders, compiling and filing charges with regards to investigated offences, preparing and compiling evidence required in Court, and also prosecuting offenders before the Inferior Courts.