

April 2011

Ms Alexandra Malangone is a Slovak national. She holds a Master of Arts Degree in International and European Law from Utrecht University (Netherlands) and a Master of Science Degree in International Co-operation and Development and Development Economics from Pavia University (Italy).

Her previous professional experience includes working for the Office of Special Representative and Co-ordinator for Combating Trafficking in Human Beings at the Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE), overseeing international adoption procedures in the Italian Embassy, and working as a research assistant in two different Universities. From 2006 to 2009, she worked as National Project Officer in the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), assessing the situation of trafficking in human beings in Slovakia in order to create evidence-based knowledge for implementing measures related to policy development, institutional and human capacity building.

In April 2011, Ms Malangone took up duties as Senior Researcher in the project “Assisting and reintegrating children victims of trafficking: promotion and evaluation of best practices in source and destination countries” run by the NGO People In Need (Slovak Republic) in partnership with the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute (Austria), Censis (Italy), the University of Pecz (Hungary), the Centre for the Study of Democracy (Bulgaria), and the Crime Victim Compensation and Support Authority (Sweden).