¹A four digit code has already been used to identify the observer team. The two first gives the long term observers (LTO) area and the last two gives the unique team within the LTO area.

²A number should be entered when the form arrives at the HQ (could also be entered before handing out to the observers but this is rather time consuming).

³This classic three-part identification is necessary. The form is based on a number of tables and can therefore easily be modified (in this case: place cursor in the ID box(es) and then split the box to the number of figures needed). Acronyms of course differ from country to country, and must be changed. Commissions never consist of more than three levels.

⁴Change or add: the Chairman of the polling station is: Male / Female. Place cursor in the last box and press 'TAB'.

⁵To be used for calculation of turn out figures.

⁶Below are two questions which can always be asked about the voters list. The form is based on a number of tables and can therefore easily be modified (place cursor in the last box and press 'TAB'), the same questions can also be asked about additional voters list and mobile list.

⁷There are no questions about number of polling station officials and party agents because this differs a lot from country to country. A question about Domestic observers could be added under section F, but then the heading would have to be changed.

⁸Two questions about 'Overcrowded PS' are asked, see questions 20. Cross-check.

⁹The categories can be changed/deleted depending on the situation and what is stated in the law.

¹⁰The categories can be changed/deleted depending on the situation and what is stated in the law.

¹¹Process questions that always can be asked. Not law dependent.

¹²These two questions can be asked even if the full process is covered on this first page. These two questions should also always be separated from the 'Overall assessment' made by the observers (not always the case in observation missions). It is therefore useful for them to be on the first page.
