2. Summary

"What do you do? Six interviews on work" is a 12 minute long documentary featuring interviews with 3 people in Athens and 3 people in Rome. The choice of the interviewees has been made according to the principle of media inclusiveness that is interviewing members of minorities not on their minority issues, but on the same topics as the other interviewees. The topic in this case was "work", with everything that comes with it: education, migration, unemployment, dreams, etc.!

3. Dissemination of the Output

The video was made public online on Youtube and it was embedded in several websites. Also, it was featured in a Facebook page called "JobGeist", a project dedicated to work that I have been carrying out for some months in Spain first, now also Greece and Italy. ! Also, the video was shown at a side event at a Coworking conference in Lisbon and it was published on Café Babel Greece.

4. Biographies of the authors
